

THE BOURBON NEWS.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

VOL. I.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1882.

NO. 59.

Your uncle Jack Frost is nipping around slightly.

The colored fair will be held at Falmouth, this week.

The 4th Ky. Infantry, U. S. will re-unite in Lexington, Oct. 10th.

SHERMAN STIVERS got an arm broken by the kick of a horse last week.

BOWEN & KELLEN open their new dry goods store at Shawhan to-day.

The bridge over the Big Sandy at Catlettsburg will be in full repair by Saturday.

The Lord has looked down on L. Frank in mercy, and sent him a little boy Sunday.

SATURDAY night a stack of hemp valued at $150, burned down on Dick Marsh's farm.

ALECK KELLER has been appointed Station agent at Shawhan; Dick Rule having resigned.

POLK FORTYTH sold last week, ten shares of Deposit Bank stock, at $98, and four of same, at $100 per share.

The total costs of the right of way of the K. C. extension, including fencing through Bourbon, will be $22,425, 40.

THERE are two society parties at North Middletown now. The Zollaries and anti-Zollaries. Has Judge Hargis been up there lately?

Mrs. HERRICK has rented Mrs. E. J. Letton's residence, and will keep a boarding house. Mrs. L. and niece will be among the boarders.

OUR postmaster got a certificate from the Postmaster General, showing not a mistake in report or a missent letter during the last month.

MARY P. HIGGINS, of Lexington, aged 14, died at the residence of Grati Hanly, Sunday night, of consumption. Her remains were shipped to Lexington, Monday morning for interment.

SMITH KENNEY, chilled off our diabolical constitution yesterday, with a triple-plated double-duplex elliptic self-acting water-melon—a very large and fine one, of Bev. Dorsey's registered variety.

ED RYAN, barber of this city, was one of thirteen who ran the foot race at the Maysville fair. He could have won the race "if he hadn't stopped running at the string." The distance to run was beyond the string.

D. C. LYMAN, the very agreeable young clerk in Brooks' drug store, has received a letter from his old employer in Philadelphia, offering him the first clerkship in his house and an increased salary over that which he is now getting, but he prefers to stay here among his many acquaintances.

JUDGE MANN, of Carlisle, has bought out the bus line of the Thurston House, and placed a line of two busses under the charge of Press Campbell, a very clever, and experienced young man who will do the correct and square thing with the public. The two busses will connect with all passenger trains and make calls in all parts of the city and suburbs. Orders can be left at either of the hotels, and they will be promptly filled.

BILLY GIBSON, of Flat Rock, has ordered suit brought through Judge Turney, on Joe Wilson, Express Agt., and Tom Williams, Gen'l Supt., of the B. L. A. C. K. M. A. R. I. A., for the loss of one cart of whiskey and the consequent collapse of a friend's stomach. The Judge attached the road and all the rolling stock, empty bottles and promises to pay of the aforesaid officers, and placed the business in the hands of a receiver. This action collapses the Messrs. Wilson and Williams' plans of extending the road to Moorefield, Buzzard Roost and Plummer's Mill, and may possibly retire Lunderback, chief engineer, to the corn field with a corn knife.

THE Cincinnati police are on the alert for Anna Redmond, a sixteen-years old colored girl from this place, whom it is thought was enticed away last Wednesday, by Joe Wallace, the colored porter for the Pullman Palace car on the K. C. Line, who is a married man with a family in Newport. The Cincinnati Enquirer publishes the following letter from him to her:

"PULLMAN PALACE CAR CO
CIN O Sp 13
"MIS ANNIE—Dearlin Miss. at this time I write to you hoping you are well. When you was in New Port I ask you to go with me with I ment when I told you and Now I ask you fer to come with me on the train wherever I take you. You shall fare well. Now Make up your mind to go, for you know I love you if you do not me. I shall look for you at the depot all Ready on Wednesday for I have a place for you to stop at Cincinnati. Now Please as soon as you get this. Yours truly until death.
JOSEPH WALLACE."

BARNES IN CINCINNATI.

In company with Nathe Woodcock and wife, we called on the Barnes portion of the Barnes & Woodcock combination at their rooms in the Gibson House, Sunday morning at 10:30. The ladies were just going down to breakfast, and requested that we should close our eyes against the glaring scenes that would greet our hawk-like eyes, in way of scattered habiliments and other indications of a tardy Sunday morning's toilet. We accordingly closed one eye, and kept the other on Mr. Barnes, who warmly greeted us in old Kentucky style.

The evangelist looks a little changed from when we saw him last—probably the result of having his hair freshly trimmed. The balance of the family are looking better and somewhat fleshier than when here. As soon as the ladies returned from breakfast, the evangelist announced that it was church time sharp, and in a few moments all were ready and on the march for Melodean Hall, which is on the corner below the Gibson House. Not having check to accept Miss Georgia's invitation to take a seat among the distinguished on the stage, we took an humble position in the audience with friend Woodcock.

THE SERMON was one of those E. Pluribus Unum—the tail-goes-with-the-hide kind of sermons, based on Abraham's conception of the Faith, and was given in that same earnest, vivacious style from which the evangelist never varies, and was well received by the congregation which comfortably filled the hall. It was interlarded with variety, spice, eloquence and mimicry which electrified and captivated the audience and held it's strictest attention clear through.

After the sermon, the usual song was sung in Miss Marie's soft and captivating style, and the invitation extended for joiners, but no one responded to the call, an appointment was made for afternoon services at the House of Refuge, and in the evening at the hall, after which the audience was dismissed.

NOTES. Mr. Barnes has a new hanging bible which he had made to order in London. Ex-Gov. R. M. Bishop, Dr. Dawson and others of similar standing, have met and are warm friends of Mr. Barnes.

Nathe Woodcock has not had time to wind his watch since the troupe arrived in the city.

When Mr. Barnes leaves Cincinnati, he will go to New York, and from thence to Europe Asia, Africa, and clear around the world.

Mr. Barnes said that Indianapolis was the worst infidel hole that he ever struck in his life. A black cloud of infidelity even hung over the city.

Among the Kentuckians present Mrs. Harry James, George Redmon, and Ben Paton, of Paris, Mrs. Ware, of Cincinnati, and J. D. Burnaw, of Carlisle.

Will Barnes with three other young men, among whom is a cousin of P. T. Barnum, the showman, are evangelizing in Tennessee—having made their debut on Sunday.

Hallowed Souvenirs.

OUR old friend Charlie Herbst, Librarian at Macon, Ga., has placed us under renewed obligations, for copies of the Charleston Tri-Weekly Mercury, of dates Nov. 30, '61 and Jan. 17, '65. We shall endeavor them to our heart as hallowed souvenirs of the bitter-sweet days of the dreamy past, and guard them as inviolate as we can from the rough touch of time's ruthless hands. The former is a neatly printed folio printed on American white paper, and is full of hope and energy. The latter is a half sheet printed on Confederate brown paper, and is voiced with the sentiment of frail hope mingled with despair. The markets in the latter, quote brown sugar at $6 per pound; flour, $20 per barrel; bacon, $2 per pound; axes, $10 each; army shoes, $25 per pair; camp kettles, $8 each; army mules, $1,000 each; artillery and cavalry horses, $800 to $1,000; brown cotton, $8. 60 per yard; wheat, $8 per bu.; yarn, $5 per lb.; socks, $2 per pair; sweet potatoes, $2, and Irish potatoes $5 per bushel; army wagons, $600; rice, 25 cents per lb.; pork $1 per lb.; whiskey and brandy, $5 per gallon; iron, $625 per ton; leather, $6.50 per lb.; molasses, $8 per gallon; corn meal, $5 per bushel; butter, $1.50 per lb.; beef, 50 cents per lb. &c. &c.

With goods at the above prices and fighting an army of more than two to one, think of a poor Confederate's chances on his lease on life at $13 per month pay in the popular currency!

The subscription rates to the '65 edition were $60 per annum.

John Jones, col'd, for assaulting four children a few days ago, was sentenced yesterday to twelve months in jail and to pay a fine of $300.

SOCIETY SCINTILLATIONS.

Will Smith arrived Saturday from Tennessee, much improved in health.

There were nineteen silk and velvet quilts shown at the Maysville fair.

The Rev. J. M. Evans is evangelizing over at Oxford, Scott county, this week.

Forgiveness is almost indifference; while love lasts forgiveness is impossible.

A woman is stoned for an action which may be committed by a man of perfect honor.

Attorney General Hardin, of Frankfort paid us a call whilst returning home from the Maysville fair Saturday.

Mrs. Dr. C. Kehoe, of Cynthiana, took the premium over fourteen entries on a calico quilt, at the Maysville fair.

John R. Gay, aged 100 years, attended a picnic in Franklin county, a few days since, and danced all day. This is a lie.

The marriage of Charles Henderson to Miss Sallie Kenney, of this city, will take place to-morrow at the Methodist church.

A New York woman has paid $350 for her dog's portrait. All the other dogs stop and ask him about it when they meet him.

B. F. Pullen, Geo. Menter, and Geo. Judy were elected representatives to the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., by Bourbon Lodge last night.

A Mr. Ever recently married a Miss Joy. The husband after the honeymoon, will quote it thusly: A thing of beauty is a jawy for Ever.

It's a great shock to a man's nervous system to have a suspender button fly off just while he is making a profound bow to a lady on the street.

Gov. Blackburn and Col. Stoddard Johnson spent half an hour in company with the "Mountain Girl," on the river, while attending the Maysville fair.

There's one consolation in the solemn hour of death, when we view the placid countenance of an angel Kentucky girl—she no longer works her jaws on tolu.

It costs $65 per day, and the purchase of sixteen full tickets over the road, for a man to hire a Pullman car as a special, on any road that the Pullman's are run.

Ben. C. Wood, formerly a printer in Lexington, but now a resident of Harrisonville, Mo., is shortly to be married to a young lady reputed to be worth $80,000.

"Never swear before ladies" saith a preacher. Correct! Always give the ladies the first swear. No thorough gentleman will object to the ladies swearing first.

Mrs. Hattie Hill has returned from New York, and will open her studio Monday, Oct. 9th, and will be glad to see all of her old pupils and many new ones at the opening.

The sense of smell may be made for the time more acute by filling the mouth with very cold water. Filling the mouth right along with beer and whiskey helps the small business also.

The reason why one of the mules in the slow race at Maysville wanted to climb the band stand, was that, he wanted to kick the band for playing "Baby Mine" a few moments before the start.

Ben Biggerstaff, a member of John Morgan's original company of sixty upon which the division formed, returned to his home in Bates county, Mo., Saturday, from a visit to Bath county, his old home.

A Bloomington, Ill., preacher named Hoffman, has been charged by his congregation with "bastardy, fornication, adultery, lasciviousness and forgery." Hoffman, like many other preachers, was a dear good fellow until found out.

Geo. Thomas, of the Maysville Republican, has found solid comfort and sweet consolation in riding over to Flemingsburg, a distance of 17 miles in 120 minutes, on the holy Sabbath. George needs to be religiously labored with for a few hours.

A Delaware woman, in scratching a match on her shoe, set her clothes on fire and was fatally burned. This is a strong argument why women should wear pants. Until they can they scratch matches on the hip they will never be safe.

If the "hot-box" nuisance could be blotted out of the Kentucky system of railway travel, and the fried Irish potatoe annihilated from the American system of hotel keeping, then we will have small hopes of Barnes' higher plane of life scooping us up into that better yonder.

Col. "Set" Ware, formerly of this city, now has charge of the zoological department of a fashionable resort in a fourth-story room on Vine street, Cincinnati. He is on good terms with the most dangerous one of the animals and has it under complete control. The Colonel's coffers are no longer desolate and lonely, and his friends even assert that he will wear under-clothes this winter. Verily, fortune will smile upon the brave occasionally.

The Trader, Turfman, Farmer and Sportsman.

300 bushels of seed rye for sale.

41. Sidney Clay.

E. G. Bedford took three premiums on Short-horns at the Maysville fair.

Sam Pryor took four premiums on the Bob Lee herd at the Maysville fair.

At the Maysville fair Friday, Judge Hawes won the 2:26 trot, with Catchfly second.

The pool-selling privileges of the Lexington trotting races have been sold to C. H. White for $550.

Pepper's Code, the fastest three-year-old trotter in the Union, was on exhibition at the Maysville fair. He has a twenty-three gait.

Apollo was the derby winner at Louisville last week. The other winners were: North Anna, Aleck Ament, Fellowplay, Bellona, Farragut and Fellowplay.

Cleora, seven years old, by Melanus, by Rysdyk's Hambletonian, the best green mare in the Union—record 2:18½, sold to Rockafeller, of New York, for $15,000.

Richard Waters, of Fayette county, finds that it costs about $10 per acre to grow wheat, and that one acre, which is made to yield thirty bushels, is more profitable to the farmer than three acres which yield twenty bushels each.

Russell Mann, administrator of the estate of C. V. Higgins, Sr., sold three tracts of land in Garrard county last week, at a rousing profit over those of the cost price two years ago. 258 acres brought $22.90; 100 acres, $33.10; 80 acres, $22.10—an average of $28. The land cost under decree of court sale two years ago, $16.25 per acre. Garrard county citizens say that these are the best sales made in the county this year.

MILLERSBURG.

Dick Hutsell sold his home place of 50 acres, to Hack Hopkins, for $95 per acre.

Mac Stitt and John Ingles took three premiums on sheep at the Maysville fair.

Johnnie Mac and Tommie Jeff Vinmont left Saturday, for their homes in St. Louis.

A train ran over and killed a cow belonging to Lewis Merrimee, Saturday morning.

James Kern, Nath Bowles, and Jim Letton, will start to Dakota Territory on a prospecting tour on Oct. 2nd.

N. O. Brooks' wife, formerly of this place, but now of Covington, has seen favor in the Lord again, and been blessed with another boy.

Will Judy offers three pounds of fine steak for best three ears of white, and three-pounds for three best ears of yellow corn, to be shown at his shop on the first Saturday in October.

Joe Batson says the only difference in a circus now and forty years ago, is that they now break a fiddle string and finish out the tune on three strings. He notes no particular difference in the fairs.

Forty years ago, Dr. Wm. Kenney, Jr., lost a five dollar gold piece while hunting on the Wm. Miller farm, where Mrs. Rachael Miller now lives. One day last week, Mr. Zed. Layson wrote to Dr. Kenney, that a colored boy had found it in a tobacco field. Dr. Kenney distinctly remembers losing it through a hole in his vest pocket.

C. R. Turner has sent the News a bullet found on the Blue Licks battlefield, which he found on centennial day. It was encased in a lump of rust as large as a man's thumb. The bullet when stripped of the rust, was perfectly smooth, and belonged to a deer gun of the primitive days. It had never been shot, but possibly may have fallen out of Dan Boone's pouch when hussling through the bushes.

Sunday night Tom Purnell told Charlie Johnson, (who has charge of the Purnell House as clerk during John Purnell's illness,) that he should not close the hotel that night. Charlie answered and said that he would close it when the time come. About ten o'clock, Charlie got out of his chair on the street to go in the door and close the house, and Tom, who was standing in the door, pulled a hatchet out of his hip pocket and cut Charlie two severe gashes on the head with it without any warning whatever. Some bystanders interfered, and the bloody work stopped, or there would probably have been trouble.

DAVE MILLER has finely furnished his barber's shop near the Citizens Bank, and now has one of the toniest and best shops in the State. Everything is new, neat, and bright.
